DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-11, 19-21, 23-25, 31-34, 69-74, 78-80 are currently at issue and are present for examination.

Applicants' amendments and arguments filed on 2-8-07, have been fully considered and are deemed to be persuasive to overcome the rejections previously applied. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. Examiner acknowledges applicant's response to the previous sequence compliance issue. Examiner has withdrawn the previous rejection of claims under 35 U.S.C. 101 and under 35 U.S.C. 112, 1st paragraph (non enablement) in view of claim amendments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 6, 19-21, 79-80 and claims 2-5, 23-25, 31-34, 69-74 depending therefrom are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 1, 6, 19-21, 79-80 are drawn to polypeptide sequences that are "about 95%" or "about 98%" identical to SEQ ID NO: 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7. However, a perusal of the specification indicates that applicants have no support for the newly added language which now constitutes a "new matter". Therefore claims 1, 6, 19-21, 79-80 and claims 2-5, 23-25, 31-34, 69-74 depending therefrom are rejected for introducing "new matter" into the claims. A perusal of the specification indicated support for only "90% identity" language and that too for only SEQ ID NO: 1 (page 18 of the specification).

In response to the previous Office action applicants argue that adding back the phrase "at least" to modify the percent identity addresses the Examiner's concern regarding support for said amendment. Applicants argue that the phrase "at least" in plain language means "not less than" and thus, when the description points out a percent identity of "at least about 90%", the plain language interpretation means "not less than 90%". Applicants argue that, "at least about 90%" is the same as anything above and about 90%. However, applicants also maintain that the drafter of the patent application could have said "about 90%, or about 91%, or about 92%, or about 93%, or about 94%, or about 95% ..." but it's a common form of the English language to say "at least about 90%" as an efficient way of describing the same thing. Examiner respectfully disagrees. Adding back the phrase "at least" does not remedy the "new matter" rejection. The question here is what the applicants chose to claim at the time this application was filed. At the time of filing this application, applicants specifically chose to exclude all those polypeptides that are more than 90% identical the sequences in question. However, they are now contemplating on claiming sequences that were not contemplated on being claimed at the time of filing this application. Therefore, without an explicit recitation of all the per cent homologies or per cent identities of sequences as support for the claim amendments that were contemplated at the time this application was filed, reciting them at this stage in the prosecution of the application raises the issue of "new matter".

Art Unit: 1652

Examiner also respectfully disagrees with respect to the applicant's argument regarding the interpretation of the decision handed down in In re Wertheim. Applicants themselves point out in In re Wertheim, the original specification described a set range of 25% to 60% and the new limitation added "at least 35%", fell within that range. However, in this case, the fact pattern is different in that the added new limitation is outside the limit of per cent homologous sequence contemplated at the time of filing this application. Therefore, applicant's conclusion that the fact pattern of the case in which the decision of In re Wertheim was handed down and the fact pattern of this instant case is the same is highly erroneous. For all the above reasons the above rejection is maintained.

Terminal Disclaimer

The terminal disclaimer filed on 4-18-06 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of the patents issued for applications 09/917383 and 09/917378 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded. In view Of the above TD the previous Obviousness Double patenting rejection is hereby withdrawn.

Conclusion

None of the claims 1, 6, 19-21, 79-80 and claims 2-5, 23-25, 31-34, 69-74 depending therefrom are allowable.

Art Unit: 1652

Claims 7-11, 78 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
